“Pass the Torch for Women Foundation Welcomes Danielle Nimtze as Program Manager”

July 27, 2021 – Indianapolis, Indiana – Pass the Torch for Women Foundation is pleased to announce the hire of Danielle Nimtze as Program Manager, beginning duties July 26. Danielle will be responsible for member relations and internal communications, external marketing and communications implementation, and administrative duties.

“Danielle brings a wealth of knowledge and experience and is an excellent addition to our team.” States CEO Deb Hallberg. “We are excited to have her on board.”

“Joining Pass The Torch for Women Foundation means that I get the opportunity to invest in the continued closure of the gender gap – of pay, access, and parity.” Danielle said. “We move closer to authentic and essential equity when we connect, mentor, and empower all women and gender-expansive folks.”

Danielle has worked with organizations that aim at increasing gender equity in the state of Indiana and beyond. She holds a B.A. in Psychology, and a master’s from Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, where she studied public affairs, innovation, and social change within nonprofits and public organizations.

The Pass the Torch for Women Foundation is creating a world where women are equitably represented at all levels of leadership in business, organization, and government. The Foundation is a community of women and men committed to supporting women throughout their career lifecycles, from college students to emerging leaders to top executives. This community guides women as they navigate their career pathways by providing mentoring and networking opportunities.

About Pass the Torch for Women Foundation (PTTFW): With their peers being in the minority within top decision-making levels, how do women create the connections that allow them to grow as leaders? How do they gain the skills and support to move up the ranks? The Pass the Torch for Women Foundation is addressing this issue in a unique and powerful way. We are creating a community of women and men committed to supporting women throughout their career lifecycles, from college students to emerging leaders to top executives. This community comes together to provide mentoring, networking and professional development to help women reach their full potential.
